A F F I D A V I T

I, JEARLD MOLDENHAUER, of the City of Toronto in the Municipality of Metropolitan Toronto, MAKE OATH AND SAY:

1. I am the owner and operator of Glad Day Bookshop Inc. located in the City of Toronto.

2. Glad Day is the principal bookstore in the gay community in Toronto. I have been the owner and operator for 19 years. We carry a full range of books and magazines of interest to the gay and lesbian community from scholarly works, fiction, non-fiction and erotica.

3. We have regularly imported books and magazines from the United States and elsewhere for sale in the store. They are typically shipped through Customs addressed care of the store or to the attention of individual staff members of the store.

4. Attached to this my affidavit and marked as indicated below are a series of Notices of Decision received from Canadian Customs with respect to certain seizures for alleged obscenity:

Exhibit "A" - November 29, 1988 - CO 7013
Exhibit "B" - November 30, 1988 - CO 7025
Exhibit "C" - December 5, 1988 - CO 7044
Exhibit "D" - December 5, 1988 - CO 7045
Exhibit "E" - December 8, 1988 - CO 7066

5. On April 7, 1989, I filed appeals from these decisions to the Deputy Minister of Customs and Excise pursuant to the provisions of the Customs Act and Regulations. There has been no decision on that appeal to this date. Attached to this my affidavit and marked as Exhibit "F" is a true copy of my submissions filed with the Deputy Minister on this appeal.

6. I am advised by Margaret Gillis, the Manager of the Prohibited Importations Unit of Canada Customs, that the appeal was referred by their office to the Department of Justice before being sent to the Deputy Minister for his decision. In a number of conversations with her, she has advised me that no decision has yet been made.

7. Attached to this my affidavit and marked as the Exhibits indicated below are true copies of the Notices of Decision regarding certain further seizures by the Department:

Exhibit "G" - August 2, 1989 - CO 0961

Exhibit "H" - August 2, 1989 - CO 0964

Exhibit "I" - August 2, 1989 - CO 0965

Exhibit "J" - August 2, 1989 - CO 0966

Exhibit "K" - August 2, 1989 - CO 0967

Exhibit "L" - October 3, 1989 - CO 1763

Exhibit "M" - October 4, 1989 - CO 1804

Exhibit "N" - October 4, 1989 - CO 1805

Exhibit "O" - October 4, 1989 - CO 1806

8. Margaret Gillis is the official who has custody of the seized material under the Customs Act at this time and is responsible for the continued detention.

9. By agreement with Margaret Gillis, no appeal has yet been filed from the Notices of Detention Exhibits "G" through "O". This was done without prejudice to our right to file appeals in these matters subsequent to the decision in the November/December 1988 seizures. She asserted, and I agreed, that many of the same books/magazines recurred in the successive shipments. She took the position in our oral conversations as I understood it that the first decision would govern the decision regarding the subsequent books.

10. Attached to this my affidavit and marked as Exhibit "P" is a true copy of a Notice of Detention with respect to a seizure August 10, 1989, FE 1017. This is the largest single seizure in this sequence. With respect to these books, there has not even been a decision made from which we could appeal. (Note that the form used by the Department is the same for the initial detention by Customs officials and the decision by Customs officials to detain the goods. The latter decision entails giving reasons by checking off a box).

11. Whatever the decision regarding the purported obscenity of the materials in question, the delays in determining the position of the Minister are financially prejudicial to my business operation. I have to pay for the books and magazines within 30 days of billing when they are purchased from American distributors. (I estimate the value of the detained material herein described at a wholesale value of $5,000.00). Some of the titles involve time dated material and by the time decisions are made, will have lost their retail value. I am further concerned that it may damage my business relations with American distributors to try and return material to them one year after purchase should the Minister at this point determine that the material is obscene. They will probably refuse to take back the goods at this stage, especially if they even are slightly physically damaged through the ordeal.

12. As important is the fact that the cumulative effect of the delays is an infringement of the rights of free speech and expression of myself as a book dealer and of my customers and myself and my customers as readers.

13. The delays at the ministerial level are the first phase of delay in the determination of purported obscenity. We are not even able to exercise our rights of appeal under the Act until the Minister has made a determination. It took many months, even after the Minister's determination before the case could be determined at the trial level. We have previously successfully appealed the decision of the Minister regarding the book "The Joy of Gay Sex".

14. I make this affidavit in support of this application for an immediate release of the books in question and for no improper purpose.

Re: Files #3730-2/64T 3011; 2986; 2972; 2963; 2966

Dear Deputy Minister:

There are a number of points which need to be made concerning the gay/lesbian community's perspective on the seizures and banning of books such as the titles involved above. These perspectives have in common that they reflect ways of looking at literature which deals with our sexuality that someone outside our community might not appreciate, at least until taking the time to consider these arguments. It is with this in mind, together with the hope that your exercise of power incorporates a sincere appreciation for genuine cultural diversity in Canada, that I make this appeal on behalf of my bookshop and my community. A government interested in being sensitive to its pluralistic nature would be wise to consider the unique sociological aspects of the gay and lesbian community rather than to continue its present approach.

Gay & lesbian people constitute a distinct social minority in Canadian society, comprising somewhere around 10% of the population. As a part of the Canadian social fabric, our situation is similar to many racial, ethnic or religious minorities, except of course, we are defined by our sexuality. One should understand that "sexuality" is meant to encompass our emotional, physical and aesthetic relationships with each other and the world.

The gay & lesbian community is, at least on a visible level, a relatively new development in modern western societies. Viewed within the brief context of the past twenty years we have come a fair distance in terms of both legal reforms and in the construction of a genuine community with its own values, mores and tangible cultural institutions such as a media network and myriad of social & political organizations. As a social minority we are very much still in the position of realizing our long suppressed identity (somewhat analogous, if I may suggest, to the present & actively ongoing quest for a distinct Canadian identity) and asserting our rights as members of a group which has often been subjected to various forms of violence by both the State & society. These manifestations of homophobia take many forms, the harassment and persecution by Canada Customs being our present focal point.

As a group made up of individuals who realize their gay or lesbian identity only after growing up submerged in an aggressive & essentially anti-gay heterosexual culture, we rely on media (books, periodicals, films) to both explore our emerging identity and to make connections within our community. We are unlike any other social group in this special relationship to our literature & visual arts. One might even go so far as to conjecture that printed material has and continues to play an inestimably major role in the creation & evolution of our particular community.

It is for this very reason which I started both the Glad Day Bookshop in 1970 and the now defunct (after 15 years) The Body Politic news journal. And it is for this same reason that, in 1986, I characterized the attacks on gay and lesbian literature by Canada Customs as a form of "cultural genocide".

It is especially ironic that a government which enacted laws against "hate literature" perpetuates its own form of "hate literature" within the infamous Memorandum D9-1-1, highlighted by the reference to "anal sex" but including several other categories of "forbidden thought" which through censorship militate ignorance, prejudice and silence on a number of areas of human sexual experience. For homosexual acts to be legal in a country and for governments, both provincial and municipal, to have enacted various measures to protect the rights of the gay & lesbian population, while the current federal government institutes and upholds an internal memorandum (not legislated) against the citizen's right to read about homosexual acts is a simple unequivocal form of hate mongering of the worst sort.

The government poses as the protector of freedom while violating the rights of citizens it should be protecting. Put another way, instead of defending the weakest members of society from the prejudices of the masses, the government itself sets the tone of intolerance and oppression as perpetrator of its own instrument of hate, D9-1-1. It would seem to provide a classic example of a misuse of power by the State and bolster the argument that the State should not exercise control over any area of freedom of speech in a society which purports to be a true democracy.

Literature such as any of the Gay Sunshine Press Publications or Leyland Publishers are published by our own community's oldest publishers and distributed to literally thousands of North American bookstores by the most reputable small press book distributors in the United States. These titles all deal with matters of interest to the gay male community -- our sexuality and relationships. Some handle these topics in a playful & simply pleasure oriented manner while others explore ideas and situations encountered in gay life.

The gay comic anthologies and works by Tom of Finland represent the creative achievements of individuals who are major figures in the cultural backbone of our community. Tom of Finland is the senior figure in this school of art and has recently been celebrated by shows in American and European art galleries, as well as the publication of a 40 year retrospective of his work. The other artists work has all appeared previously in such important gay publications as the Advocate, Bay Area Reporter, and In Touch. Any examination of the collections would, of course, show the reader that matters of sexuality and sexual politics are dealt with by comic artists in an essentially playful manner which is capable of providing insights into human situations which other forms of communication may not achieve so effectively.

All play a role in helping gay men to better realize the nature of our sexuality and to provide an outlet for many people who are not able, for one reason or another (a primary one being age, followed by things such as physical handicaps) to interact with other members of their community. Of course many people enjoy such literature simply as a part of their varied programme of reading.

This goes without stating the most obvious of all "uses" of erotic literature (and videos, for that matter) within the gay male community: the reduction of sexual encounters whereby the AIDS virus is transmitted from one individual to another. It should be obvious to any rational caring individual in society (including government bureaucrats who are "just following orders") that activities which reduces the probability of individuals contracting the deadly disease -- and thereby reduces human suffering and loss -- not to mention enormous expense to the social welfare, is a good thing.

The points I've tried to make seem obvious to most gay/lesbian people. I know from plenty of experience that while Canada Customs officers are not trained in such matters as social tolerance and individual rights under the Charter, they certainly do reflect more than their share of social prejudice toward minorities, at least through rampant homophobic behaviour. This statement is being submitted with the hope that our perspectives, once outlined, might help in your interpretation of both the books in question and in your role as authorities over what Canadians can read. We hope that tolerance, compassion and social justice will prevail.

Sincerely,

Jearld Moldenhauer

p.s. Two recent articles examining the work of Tom of Finland are included for your consideration.
